

Titan

Helping you deliver protected pipe. All day, every day.

As our first level in heavy-duty thread protection, MSI Pipe Protection Technologies' Titan™ delivers a rugged design with unrivaled endurance for long-term storage and handling methods. Backed by decades of proof, Titan provides superior thread protection and its durability makes it the best value for threaded protectors on the market today.

Among the features for which Titan is widely known, the precise fit, corrosion protection, and impact protection are among some of the most common. In addition, our Titan was designed to offer a complete thread protection experience from installation to removal, making it an ideal option for automated equipment. Titan also offers many long-term benefits and is meant to handle protection against some of the most common occurrences in the industry.

For more information contact us at: 877.276.9208

9035 Solon Road, Houston, Texas 77064, USA

Titan features and benefits

- Plastic, heavy-duty thread protection
- Maximum corrosion protection
- Ideal for long-term coverage and non-extreme transportation
- Casing sizes in closed-end liftable and non-liftable
- Available for most API applications
- Installation tool ready
- 100% recyclable
- Available for tubing: 2³/₈-3¹/₂-in.
- Available for casing: 4¹/₂-9⁵/₈-in.